RE-ARRANGED

(By United Press)
Shanghai, Sept. 23.—Lu Yung Hsiang plans to withdraw his Chekiang troops to within two miles of the foreign settlements of Shanghai, thus drawing shells from Chi Hsieh Yuan's artillery upon the international quarters, it was reported today. By this move Lu hopes to cause foreign intervention favorable to himself.

There was a lull in the fighting on all fronts this morning, including those in the north. The four commanders were busy re-arranging their battle lines and bringing up reinforcements.

Positions before Shanghai were unchanged. Six hundred white Russian refugees joined Chi's army.

MANCHURIAN WARLORD
WILL FIGHT TO FINISH

Mukden, Manchuria, Sept. 23.—Chang Tso Lin, Manchurian warlord, in an exclusive interview with the United Press today pledged war to the finish against the "brigands and rulers who are destroying China and making her name farcial before the world."

In his northern stronghold whence he is directing attacks upon the Chi Li forces before Shan Kai Kwan, Chang paused in the midst of military duties to declare "every ounce of Manchurian strength will be used to capture Peking."

CHAO YANG FALLS INTO
MANCHURIAN HANDS

Osaka, Japan, Sept. 23.—The fall of Chao Yang, important city of northern China, to invading Manchurian troops of General Chang Tso Lin, is officially confirmed, according to the Osaka Mainichi Mukden correspondent. CHAPTER PROGRAM
BENEFIT TO FIVE
CALIFORNIA TOWNS

Marin County, Calif., Chapter reports a large attendance at a well baby conference held recently, showing that the year-round program of the Chapter is appreciated by the communities it serves. The customary let-up of activities during the summer was not observed there.

The conferences are held regularly every month in five towns—San Rafael, Mill Valley, Fairfax, Sausalito and Corte Madera-Larkspur—fully covering the entire Chapter territory. A baby specialist examines all the children assisted by Red Cross nurses. The Chapter car is used to bring mothers who live at a distance.

The Chapter also did a piece of work which was most opportune. One of the nurses found a tuberculosis man sleeping in a little kitchen. She advised him to sleep in the open. This he was anxious to do, but neither had the money to put on a roof and screen his porch, nor warm blankets. The difficulty was overcome when the Chapter finished a pair of blankets and sent a carpenter to do the necessary work on the porch.

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 23.—The terrific wind and rain storm which struck Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin Sunday has taken a toll of at least 62 lives, according to reports coming in last night.

In Wisconsin 54 were known to have perished and five were reported killed in Minnesota.

These may be added to when a complete survey is received from all sections of the state.

Reports here said that many miles of wire were still on the ground and railroad communication was virtually at a standstill in some sections of the storm area.

LOWEST DEATH
RATE IN HISTORY
OF THIS COUNTRY

(By United Press)
New York, Sept. 23.—The death rate for the first six months of this year is the lowest for the first half of any year in the history of the United States and Canada, according to an estimate in a life insurance statistical bulletin. The estimate is based on mortality records of the more than 15,000,000 persons.

The bulletin says the typhoid rate continues to fall and there is every indication that 1924 will register a new minimum for this disease. Diphtheria has also declined, while scarlet fever and whooping cough have shown the same mortality rates. This is taken to be an improvement because more infant lives are included in the estimate than in previous years.

There has also been a slight decline in deaths from alcoholism in this cross section of population. These deaths numbered 236 in the first six months of this year against 241 for the same period of 1923. Wood and denatured alcohol deaths also declined. Only eight were recorded, as compared with 20 for the same period last year. Cirrhosis of the liver, closely associated with alcoholism cases, 475 deaths as against 435 for the first six months of 1923. While automobile accidents have increased, suicides have decreased. Homicides have declined among white policyholders but have increased among colored.

WEEKS AND WALLACE, ONLY
CABINET MEMBERS
ABSENT

(By United Press)
Washington, Sept. 23.—President Coolidge today laid before his cabinet two questions of importance—the relative importance of aircraft and battleships and governmental economy.

Secretary of War Weeks, who is in New Hampshire and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, who is ill, were the only members absent from the important discussions. Secretary Wilbur's presence for the first time in over a month made it possible for the naval question to be taken up.

It was expected that Wilbur would lay before the president and his other advisors a rough outline of the survey he has been ordered to make of the aircraft versus battleships problem and ask suggestions.

The discussion of government economy was prompted by the imminence of conferences between the budget bureau and various departments over estimates for next year. As they are usually featured by prolonged arguments over details, the president, who is a strong defender of the budget system, believes he could smooth out things by taking up differences directly with department heads.

One of the matters which were to be taken up was Hoover's negotiations with large business interests to define the legal sphere of trade associations.

Today's meeting may be the last at which most of the president's official family are present for some time. Secretary Hughes will leave for a speaking tour and it is expected others will go West in the near future to take the stump.

The weather was gray and dull, but there was hope of clear skies later in the day.

Chicago Pastor Defends
Capital Punishment

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Jesus died by capital punishment, Rev. Simon Peter Long, pastor of the Wicker Park Lutheran church, declared in a Sunday sermon defending capital punishment.

Rev. Long said if Justice John R. Caverly had consulted the Bible before imposing prison sentence in the Leopold and Loeb murder case, he would have learned God's will in the matter.

"Capital punishment is not murder, for God, who gives life, has a right to take it," Rev. Long declared. "When the courts act according to law they are performing the will of God for governments are ordained by God."

"Jesus died by capital punishment as though God would say that nothing short of the supreme penalty would atone for the sins of the world."

*RECRUITING IN NATIONAL GUARD
ORDERED STOPPED

(By United Press)
Washington, Sept. 23.—Recruiting in the national guards of 22 states was ordered stopped today by the War Department because of insufficient funds.

Among the states affected are North and South Dakota, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Nebraska, Ohio and Wisconsin.

The guards in the District of Columbia and Porto Rico also were affected.

These states are those whose national guards are more than 100 per cent above maintenance strength, which is about one-fourth of authorized peace strength. Units which have not reached this limit will be allowed to continue to recruit.

There are now about 188,000 enlisted in the country, although the available funds provide for only 177,000 men. A previous order stopped formation of new units.

Milwaukee, Sept. 23.—Four colored persons were drowned here today when the automobile in which they were riding plunged into an open draw of the Chestnut street bridge.

Although the car was recovered a short time after the accident the bodies had not been recovered at noon.

From the license plate on the car police were able to trace the ownership of the automobile to Elmer Crowe. It was then learned that the four had attended a party which had been given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Cash Robinson, Racine, two of the victims. The fourth occupant was unidentified.

CITY TO HIRE 3 MEN

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—The city is in the market for services of three men who are willing to accept 80 or 90 cents an hour for doing nothing.

The line will please form at the right.

Particular duties of these men, it was explained at the city council session this morning, will be to serve as engineers on the new temporary Jackson st. bridge, waiting for boats to come up or go down the river.

War department requirements are that 24-hour engineer service be maintained to care for river traffic. Applicants must be capable of rating as engineers.

Time and place of civil service examinations will be announced later.

MOTHER OF DROWNED
WAR VET WINS SUIT
FOR $10,000 POLICY

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Mary Cowie will receive $10,000 as a result of a federal court decision filed today by Judge John F. McGee.

Her son, Francis S. Cowie, was gassed in the World War, and receiving compensation when he was drowned in Lake Alexandria in the summer of 1919.

He was a month behind in his insurance premium payments, however, and the government refused to pay the policy. The government, however, was two months behind in compensation payments.

Mrs. Cowie went to court, and Judge McGee held today that as the government itself was delinquent in paying Cowie his compensation, that may have been the cause of his not paying the insurance premium, and therefore the government should pay the $10,000 policy to Mrs. Cowie.

RUMORS AND INNUENDO AGAIN

INGTON

(By United Press)
Washington, Sept. 23.—The atmosphere of suspicion which clouded the capital during the senate investigations settled on Washington again today as the result of Gaston B. Means' alleged repudiation of his testimony against former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty in the investigation of the department of justice.

Rumors and innuendo again filled the air, and as during the peak of the Teapot Dome and Daugherty probes there was no certainty whose political reputation might suffer in developments to come.

Charges and countercharges, repudiations and counter-repudiations have followed with such alarming rapidity that political Washington would like to crawl into a figurative hole and wait for a return to normal honesty.

To understand the background of the situation it is necessary to recall the developments of the past week.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, independent vice-presidential candidate, when invading Ohio last week gave newspaper men a statement in which he said he expected an attempt by "the Daugherty gang" to intimidate him.

On the heels of this Daugherty gave out at his office in Columbus copies of a letter to John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, quoting alleged statements by Means, former department of justice investigator, and star witness of the prosecution in the Daugherty investigation, as repudiation of his testimony against the former attorney general.

Means was quoted as saying he gave his testimony at the instigation of Senator Wheeler, who was chief prosecutor in the Daugherty probe.

ADDRESSES ANNUAL CONVEN-
TION, NATIONAL ASSOCIA-
TION OF POSTMASTERS

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Sept. 23.—Increased postal rates were forecast by Harry S. New, postmaster general, in an address today before the annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters.

"If new obligations of major importance are created for the postoffice department, ordinary prudence suggests an upward readjustment of certain rates to meet them," New said.

"The present administration of the department has not insisted that the service be made absolutely self-sustaining. The government of every other great nation seeks to make its postoffice department a revenue-producer. There is no country giving service together with the liberality of the postoffice department of the United States."

"It is only fair that the rate charged should approximate the expense incurred by the service rendered."

Several hundred postmasters from all parts of the United States were in attendance at the convention.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held on October 8 to fill positions of immigration patrol inspector for duty along the Mexican and Canadian borders.

Appointees will be required to perform guard duty along the two international boundary lines for the purpose of detecting and preventing the illegal entry of aliens into the United States.

The conditions under which this work is carried on are closely comparable in nature and requirements to the duties of a soldier under actual field conditions. Applicants must have had at least two years' experience as a law enforcement officer, or at least six months' experience in a combatant branch of the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, or at least six months' experience in a State, Territorial, or foreign police organization comparable in rank to such forces as the Texas Rangers, Pennsylvania State Constabulary, New York State Constabulary, Royal Northwest Mounted Police, etc.

The entrance salary is $1,680 a year. Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or from the secretary of the local board of civil-service examiners at the post office or customhouse in any city.

CONFESSES
SHE POISONED
HER HUSBAND

DID IT SO SHE WOULD BE FREE
TO LOVE REV. LAWRENCE
M. HIGHT

HIGHT, IN PREVIOUS CONFESSION, IMPLICATED MRS. SWEETEN

(By United Press)
Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 23.—Naming her pastor as her betrayer, Elsie Sweeten, 34, today confessed she poisoned her husband, Wilford, so that she could be free to love her pastor, Rev. Lawrence M. Hight.

After an all-night session of questioning in a front room of the Jefferson county jail following her arrest on a confession last night by Hight implicating her, the pretty brunette told a complete story, accepting the crime as her own.

Rev. Hight, middle-aged Methodist Episcopal pastor of Ina, the village in which Mrs. Sweeten lived with her husband for several years, loved her and she reciprocated the affection, she said.

Did Not Love Her Husband
Mrs. Sweeten did not love her husband; he neglected her, she declared. After dictating a complete confession, the woman, exhausted, fell into a deep sleep.

Rev. Hight, still pious, held in the same jail for the murder of his wife by arsenic which he has confessed, prayed when told the woman had confessed.

"I love her," he said. "She reciprocated my affection. It was all a terrible mistake."

Hight Furnished Arsenic
Rev. Hight furnished the woman with arsenic to poison her husband, which she administered repeatedly until he died July 28. Then Mrs. Anna Hight, wife of the circuit rider pastor for 26 years, was given poison in her food until she died September 12.

Woman's Confession
The woman's confession in full follows:

"I, Elsie Sweeten, of my own free will and without compulsion, and after being fully advised as to my rights and that what I say may be used against me, and for the sole purpose of clearing my conscience, do make the following statement:

"That the first time I noticed Mr. Hight had any feeling of affection for me was in April, 1924; that my husband had for some time treated me without affection; that Rev. Hight continued his advances, and I finally discovered that I had returned his affection."

"That, about three months ago, Mr. Hight suggested that he give me some poison to give to my husband and he would then do the same to his wife."

Horried at First
"At first I was horrified, but he talked so plausibly and I had such confidence in him that it seemed to me to be right to do it."

"That finally I agreed that I was to administer poison to my husband Wilford Sweeten, and he was to administer poison to his wife, Anna Hight."

"And then, a week or two before my husband, Wilford Sweeten, was hurt in a mine at Nason, Ill., Lawrence M. Hight gave me a package which he told me contained poison and told me to give some of it to Wilford in anything."

"That Wilford was hurt in a mine on the night of July 16, 1924, and that the following day we (Wilford and I) went to Benton, Ill., and went in a drug store and got some ice cream and coca cola."

Poisoned Candy
"On the way home I gave Wilford Sweeten, my husband, some chocolate candy in which I had mixed some of the poison which Hight had given me. He became very ill, but some time later he grew better and so I

To understand the background of the situation it is necessary to recall the developments of the past week.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, independent vice-presidential candidate, when invading Ohio last week gave newspaper men a statement in which he said he expected an attempt by "the Daugherty gang" to intimidate him.

On the heels of this Daugherty gave out at his office in Columbus copies of a letter to John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, quoting alleged statements by Means, former department of justice investigator, and star witness of the prosecution in the Daugherty investigation, as repudiation of his testimony against the former attorney general.

Means was quoted as saying he gave his testimony at the instigation of Senator Wheeler, who was chief prosecutor in the Daugherty probe.

GUESTS

(By United Press)
Washington, Sept. 23.—Assistant Attorney-General Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt today ordered United States attorney Woodcock of Baltimore to start an investigation of the cider party held by Representative John Philip Hill at his Baltimore home Saturday night.

Mrs. Willebrandt promised definite action in the case this week. Hill served 2.75 per cent cider to his guests, with the intention of forcing the government to render a decision as to its legality and by analogy the legality of beer of similar alcoholic content.

INCREASED POSTAL RATES ARE FOREMOST

GENERAL, MAKES ANNOUNCE-MENT

ADDRESSES ANNUAL CONVEN-
TION, NATIONAL ASSOCIA-
TION OF POSTMASTERS

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Sept. 23.—Increased postal rates were forecast by Harry S. New, postmaster general, in an address today before the annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters.

"If new obligations of major importance are created for the postoffice department, ordinary prudence suggests an upward readjustment of certain rates to meet them," New said.

"The present administration of the department has not insisted that the service be made absolutely self-sustaining. The government of every other great nation seeks to make its postoffice department a revenue-producer. There is no country giving service together with the liberality of the postoffice department of the United States."

"It is only fair that the rate charged should approximate the expense incurred by the service rendered."

Several hundred postmasters from all parts of the United States were in attendance at the convention.

ADDED FORCE TO PREVENT SMUGGLING OF ALIEN PEOPLE

Washington, Sept. 23.—The Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held on October 8 to fill positions of immigration patrol inspector for duty along the Mexican and Canadian borders.

Appointees will be required to perform guard duty along the two international boundary lines for the purpose of detecting and preventing the illegal entry of aliens into the United States.

The conditions under which this work is carried on are closely comparable in nature and requirements to the duties of a soldier under actual field conditions. Applicants must have had at least two years' experience as a law enforcement officer, or at least six months' experience in a combatant branch of the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, or at least six months' experience in a State, Territorial, or foreign police organization comparable in rank to such forces as the Texas Rangers, Pennsylvania State Constabulary, New York State Constabulary, Royal Northwest Mounted Police, etc.

The entrance salary is $1,680 a year. Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or from the secretary of the local board of civil-service examiners at the post office or customhouse in any city.

CONFESSES SHE POISONED HER HUSBAND

DID IT SO SHE WOULD BE FREE
TO LOVE REV. LAWRENCE
M. HIGHT

HIGHT, IN PREVIOUS CONFESSION, IMPLICATED MRS.
SWEETEN

(By United Press)
Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 23.—Naming her pastor as her betrayer, Elsie Sweeten, 34, today confessed she poisoned her husband, Wilford, so that she could be free to love her pastor, Rev. Lawrence M. Hight.

After an all-night session of questioning in a front room of the Jefferson county jail following her arrest on a confession last night by Hight implicating her, the pretty brunette told a complete story, accepting the crime as her own.

Rev. Hight, middle-aged Methodist Episcopal pastor of Ina, the village in which Mrs. Sweeten lived with her husband for several years, loved her and she reciprocated the affection, she said.

Did Not Love Her Husband
Mrs. Sweeten did not love her husband; he neglected her, she declared. After dictating a complete confession, the woman, exhausted, fell into a deep sleep.

Rev. Hight, still pious, held in the same jail for the murder of his wife by arsenic which he has confessed, prayed when told the woman had confessed.

"I love her," he said. "She reciprocated my affection. It was all a terrible mistake."

Hight Furnished Arsenic
Rev. Hight furnished the woman with arsenic to poison her husband, which she administered repeatedly until he died July 28. Then Mrs. Anna Hight, wife of the circuit rider pastor for 26 years, was given poison in her food until she died September 12.

Woman's Confession

The woman's confession in full follows:
"I, Elsie Sweeten, of my own free will and without compulsion, and after being fully advised as to my rights and that what I say may be used against me, and for the sole purpose of clearing my conscience, do make the following statement:

"That the first time I noticed Mr. Hight had any feeling of affection for me was in April, 1924; that my husband had for some time treated me without affection; that Rev. Hight continued his advances, and I finally discovered that I had returned his affection.

"That, about three months ago, Mr. Hight suggested that he give me some poison to give to my husband and he would then do the same to his wife.

Horried at First
"At first I was horried, but he talked so plausibly and I had such confidence in him that it seemed to me to be right to do it.

"That finally I agreed that I was to administer poison to my husband Wilford Sweeten, and he was to administer poison to his wife, Anna Hight.

"And then, a week or two before my husband, Wilford Sweeten, was hurt in a mine at Nason, Ill., Lawrence M. Hight gave me a package which he told me contained poison and told me to give some of it to Wilford in anything.

"That Wilford was hurt in a mine on the night of July 16, 1924, and that the following day we (Wilford and I) went to Benton, Ill., and went in a drug store and got some ice cream and coca cola.

Poisoned Candy
"On the way home I gave Wilford Sweeten, my husband, some chocolate candy in which I had mixed some of the poison which Hight had given me. He became very ill, but some time later he grew better and so I

New Explanation for Disasters on Ocean

In explanation of collisions at sea it is said to be a scientific fact that a very large liner moving through shallow water will attract small craft toward her. This theory was first put forward when the White Star liner Olympic collided with the British destroyer Hawke, whose captain stated on oath that his vessel was sucked toward the big liner and refused to answer her helm at all. He was laughed at then, but not so long afterward the ill-fated Titanic started on her maiden voyage. As she steamed down Southampton docks the American liner New York, an eleven-thousand-ton ship, began to get uneasy at her berth alongside the quay. Presently her stout mooring ropes snapped, one after another, and she started to move out toward the White Star ship. The Titanic was immediately stopped, while tugs got hold of the New York and towed her back into safety. During the war there was another proof of the theory, this time by the Olympic again. A German submarine sailed up to her and was getting ready to torpedo her, when the suction drew the U-boat close up under the liner's stern, and the blades of her great propeller ripped open the submarine from stem to stern.

Old Weather "Saws" Based on Good Sense

Admiral Fitzroy, who invented the barometer and commanded the brig Beagle on its expedition to the American coast in 1831, declares that most of the old "saws" regarding weather are reliable and based on common-sense investigation. As a weather expert he commended an old saying to the effect that the glow of dawn high in the sky denotes wind, and a low dawn fair weather. He bade us believe that soft-looking, delicate clouds mean wind-fair weather, and hard, ragged ones wind. Mist on a hilltop means rain and wind if it stays long or comes down—fine-weather if it rises and disperses. Rain is due when distant objects look near as on what is called a good hearing day. And rain is foretold by pigs carrying straws to sties. The pig as a prophet appears in an old riddle: Question: Why is a storm to follow presently when a company of hogsges runne crying home? Answer: A hog is most dull and of a melancholy nature; and so by reason doth foretell the rain that cometh. In time of rain, most cattell doe prick up their ears; as for example an asse will, when he perceiveth a storme of rain or hail doth follow.

Story of Elgin

We might use the glamorous words of childhood's fairy tales, "Long ago and far away," to tell the tale of Elgin cathedral, whose seven hundredth birthday was celebrated last August 5 and 6. So long ago as the twilight time of the early Middle ages, so far away as Rome, must we go for the beginings of the story of this hoary old pile, whose influence has been casting its spell upon the lives of the dwellers in the old province of Moray from that far-off time to the present. There is an old tradition that the Cuthberts founded the church to begin with, just as they did that of Birnie. In any case, the site was already hallowed by many sacred associations, when Bishop Andrew Moray, scion of the powerful house of De Moravia, moved the Cathedral of Spynie to the Church of Holy Trinity in Elgin.

Up-to-Date

Mark Twain's home at Redding, Conn., was at one time visited by burglars. After their visit Mark Twain tacked the following sign on his front door: "Notice to the Next Burglar: There is nothing but plated ware in this house now and henceforth. You will find it in the brass thing in the dining room over in the corner by the basket with the kittens. If you want the basket, put the kittens in the brass thing."

"Do not make a noise; it disturbs the family. You will find rubbers in the front hall by that thing which has umbrellas in it; chiffonier, I think they call it, or pergola, or something like that. Please close the door when you go!"

"Prestige"

Strange are the ways of words. Of which there is no better example than the fact that "prestige," which names the power or influence of a good reputation, should have had its beginning in the tricks of a juggler! Yet that is how it started.

"Prestige" goes back to the Latin "præstigare," meaning juggling tricks—the same derivation as our "prestidigitation" which is sleight-of-hand. And the explanation of this strange transition is in the fact that in the myth and goblin-tenanted days of the far-distant past, juggling tricks were supposed to manifest enchantment, which was regarded with the very highest admiration and respect hence "prestige."

Not for Himself Alone

Man was not made for himself alone. No, he was made for his country, by the obligations of the social compact; he was made for his species, by the Christian duties of universal charity; he was made for all ages past, by the sentiment of reverence for his forefathers; and he was made for all future times, by the impulse of affection for his progeny. The voice of history has not, in all its compass, a note that does not answer in unison with these sentiments.—John Quincy Adams.

And rain is foretold by pigs carrying straws to sties. The pig as a prophet appears in an old riddle: Question: Why is a storm to follow presently when a company of hogs runne crying home? Answer: A hog is most dull and of a melancholy nature; and so by reason doth foretell the rain that cometh. In time of rain, most cattle doo pricke up their ears; as for example an asse will, when he perceiveth a storme of rain or hail doth follow.

Story of Elgin

We might use the glamorous words of childhood's fairy tales, "Long ago and far away," to tell the tale of Elgin cathedral, whose seven hundredth birthday was celebrated last August 5 and 6. So long ago as the twilight time of the early Middle ages, so far away as Rome, must we go for the beginnings of the story of this hoary old pile, whose influence has been casting its spell upon the lives of the dwellers in the old province of Moray from that far-off time to the present. There is an old tradition that the Caledones founded the church to begin with, just as they did that of Birnie. In any case, the site was already hallowed by many sacred associations, when Bishop Andrew Moray, scion of the powerful house of De Moravia, moved the Cathedral of Spynie to the Church of Holy Trinity in Elgin.

Up-to-Date

Mark Twain's home at Redding, Conn., was at one time visited by burglars. After their visit Mark Twain tacked the following sign on his front door: "Notice to the Next Burglar: There is nothing but plated ware in this house now and henceforth. You will find it in the brass thing in the dining room over in the corner by the basket with the kittens. If you want the basket, put the kittens in the brass thing."

"Do not make a noise; it disturbs the family. You will find rubbers in the front hall by that thing which has umbrellas in it; chiffonier, I think they call it, or pergola, or something like that. Please close the door when you go!"

"Prestige"

Strange are the ways of words. Of which there is no better example than the fact that "prestige," which names the power or influence of a good reputation, should have had its beginning in the tricks of a juggler! Yet that is how it started.

"Prestige" goes back to the Latin "praestigiare," meaning juggling tricks—the same derivation as our "prestidigitation" which is sleight-of-hand. And the explanation of this strange transition is in the fact that in the myth and goblin-tenanted days of the far-distant past, juggling tricks were supposed to manifest enchantment, which was regarded with the very highest admiration and respect hence "prestige."

Not for Himself Alone

Man was not made for himself alone. No, he was made for his country, by the obligations of the social compact; he was made for his species, by the Christian duties of universal charity; he was made for all ages past, by the sentiment of reverence for his forefathers; and he was made for all future times, by the impulse of affection for his progeny. The voice of history has not, in all its compass, a note that does not answer in unison with these sentiments.—John Quincy Adams.

GULL LAKE PARK DAIRY FLOURISHING

New Markets, Tourist Trade Causes Large Increase of Business

LOCATED NEAR GRANDVIEW

Frank Heywood, Millionaire Paper
Box Manufacturer, Owner of Dairy Farm

The new markets the summer tourist trade is making for the farmer was probably never better evidenced than by the experience of the Gull Lake Park Dairy, at the north end of Gull Lake, adjoining Grandview Lodge on the east.

Started as a means of recreation by a Twin City business man the millionaire paper box manufacturer, Frank Heywood, something like a year ago, the dairy came under the practical management of Chas. Kargel, the present superintendent, and during the year has developed from a plaything to a practical undertaking.

The most surprising aspect of the enterprise has been the demand for the milk and cream supplied by the dairy. Only the north half of Gull Lake, practically, was covered with the milk routes, but the demand could not be supplied, although as high as 260 quarts of milk and 25 quarts of cream was delivered some days.

Present plans of the superintendent call for the doubling of the capacity of the dairy for next summer's season. This is to be done by shipping in a carload of good grade milk cows in the spring, caring for them on rented land, and in the fall selecting the best for the dairy herd and marketing the remainder. During the winter it is planned to market the milk and cream in Brainerd.

The Gull Lake Park Dairy is specializing in Guernsey cattle. At present there are about 40 head of cows in the herd. Several of these are Jerseys, but these are being replaced with Guernseys as rapidly as possible. There are now 12 head of pure bred Guernseys on the place including the herd sire, and it is expected that in the near future there will be registered stock to sell. On one little calf a few weeks old, the dairy has a standing offer of $100 when it reaches the age of six months.

The equipment of the dairy is the finest imaginable. The barn is L shaped, large enough for about 40 head of cattle, with large hay mow and granary upstairs. Everything is highly sanitary. Floors and mangers are of concrete, and stanchions and pens of steel. The woodwork is finished with enamel. With different equipment the place would look like a kitchen. Two immense silos stand at the south end of the barn, one of hollow tile and the other stave concrete. These silos are being filled this week with corn from a field that last winter was covered with jack pine.

The milk house is doubtless one of the finest in the state. In the bottle washing room is a steam washer with turbine operated brush and steam sterilizers. The cooling and bottling room is equipped with a large cooler through which cold well water is pumped, an electrically operated separator and a bottle-filling machine that fills four bottles at a time. Off this room is a large refrigerator.

Electricity for lights and the motors for the pumps and milking machines is furnished by a large Delco light plant.

There are something over 300 acres of land in this dairy farm. Of this 80 acres is in crop. A large acreage of corn is grown for the silos, and there is 20 acres in clover and alfalfa. The ten-acre field of alfalfa was planted in June this year without a nurse crop and there is a splendid stand. Part of this field was treated with ground lime and part with marl. Mr. Kargel thinks the lime-treated portion is a little better, but County Agent Roth insists that the difference is in the soil. The other half of this field was sown to sweet clover, but has developed a fine stand of alsike and promises to yield a good crop next year.

Feed is stretched to its limits at the farm. Upstairs in the barn there is a feed cutter into which the hay is all fed. Here it is first chopped into short lengths and then ground fine. By an arrangement of the mill grain can be added during the grinding. Prepared in this way, every particle of the hay is eaten by the cattle. Straw is used for bedding.

Market gardening is to have attention at the dairy next year, and a gardener will be employed. Mr. Kargel says that if they had been able to fill the demands this summer for vegetables he is certain sales

"BOBS" DOOMED? BEAUTY CROWN TO UNSHORN GIRLS

NATIONAL BATHING BEACH
PRIZES AWARDED ONLY TO
GIRLS WITH TRESSES

STYLE SPECIALISTS PREDICT
BANISHMENT OF SCISSORS
THIS WINTER

Atlantic City, Sept. 23.—Is bobbed hair doomed?

Beauty specialists, theatrical managers and style authorities in New York agree that the post-war epidemic of shorn tresses has reached its peak, and women to seek to dress "differently" are turning to "transformations," the Parisienne bandeau and other means of disguising their snipped locks, according to late reports from the east.

Newspaper women, in attendance at the Long Island social activities in honor of the Prince of Wales, were impressed with the spreading habit of letting the hair grow long again. Society women, they found, are pensioning the barber's shears, because "every shop girl now has a boyish shingle, my dear."

Bobbed Hair Too Expensive
"I cut my hair three years ago," said a young business woman in a downtown office yesterday. "I thought I'd save a dreadful lot of time. But, gracious, my 'King Tut' cut means oodles of bother and hair-dressing expenses—far more than my old coiffure cost."

"—And bobbing does destroy a girl's personality," chimed in her companion. "You look like every other girl, at dances, the theatre, parties. We all look like orphan asylum inmates. No individuality. Yes, I'm letting mine grow again."

Anyway—
You may be as beautiful as Helen of Troy or as shapely as Venus—but you'll never win a national bathing beauty contest if you have bobbed hair!

To judge from the recent happenings at Atlantic City, where the fairest of the fair from more than ninety American cities assembled to compete for the honor of being named "Miss America," the girls with the shingle or boyish bob didn't have a chance.

True! There were a number of girls at the contest whose locks were attractively clipped—but they disappeared in the first elimination and were never heard of again.

Beauties Are Curl Adorned
On the other hand, Miss Ruth Malcolmson, whose dark, luxurious curls fall far over her shapely shoulders, was chosen Beach Queen of America. She comes from Philadelphia. Her curls have never been scissored, she said. And now she has a secretary—working ten hours a day, 'tis said, answering offers of contracts from movie producers, toothbrush concerns and hair tonic manufacturers.

And there was Miss Catherine M. Campbell of Columbus, O., who won the Atlantic City beauty crown for the last two years. She was "runner-up" this year. And she's never heard the barber's cru-u-el clippers.

Another fascinating beauty, whose long, flowing tresses attracted the judges to such a degree that she was awarded numerous cups and a place

WOODHEAD MOTOR CO. IMPROVEMENTS

Makes Radical Changes Designed to Increase Floor Space and En-
large Departments

NEW MACHINERY ADDED

All Arrangements Designed Along
Lines Approved by the
Ford Company

The Woodhead Motor Company is making a number of radical changes and improvements in its plant, designed to increase floor space and to enlarge several of the important departments.

A portion of the south end of the large show room has been partitioned off from the rest of the room and will be used for the president's private office and the accounting department.

The west side of the show room, formerly occupied by these offices, is to be converted into a stock room for Ford parts. Lupton steel bins, designed especially for handling these parts, are to be installed. The bins come in thirty-two units having a total of 1,202 compartments, giving ample storage space for a very large stock of parts. The company manufacturing these bins states that the Woodhead Motor Company will have the largest Ford parts department in Northern Minnesota.

In addition to the bins special Lupton racks will be used for handling springs, radiators, fenders and wheels, parts that formerly took up a great deal of space because of their size.

The repair shop is to be moved forward and will occupy the space of the old parts room, the paint shop and the assembling room. Several pieces of machinery are being added which will facilitate repairs. The new shop will take care of nine cars at one time.

The space now occupied by the machine and repair shop is to be converted into a garage with a capacity of twenty-five cars in live storage.

The north-west corner of the front show room is partitioned off and is to be used for a receiving room. A loaded truck carrying parts and supplies, can drive into the room and unload, and the parts will be distributed from this point to the bins. Fordson tractor and Lincoln parts will be stored in this room also.

John F. Woodhead, president of the company, states that this new arrangement of the plant is designed along lines approved by the Ford company, and recommended for efficient and economical handling of the work. The trade in Ford parts, accessories and repairs has increased to the point where it was necessary

There are something over 300 acres of land in this dairy farm. Of this 80 acres is in crop. A large acreage of corn is grown for the silos, and there is 20 acres in clover and alfalfa. The ten-acre field of alfalfa was planted in June this year without a nurse crop and there is a splendid stand. Part of this field was treated with ground lime and part with marl. Mr. Kargel thinks the lime-treated portion is a little better, but County Agent Roth insists that the difference is in the soil. The other half of this field was sown to sweet clover, but has developed a fine stand of alsike and promises to yield a good crop next year.

Feed is stretched to its limits at the farm. Upstairs in the barn there is a feed cutter into which the hay is all fed. Here it is first chopped into short lengths and then ground fine. By an arrangement of the mill grain can be added during the grinding. Prepared in this way, every particle of the hay is eaten by the cattle. Straw is used for bedding.

Market gardening is to have attention at the dairy next year, and a gardener will be employed. Mr. Kargel says that if they had been able to fill the demands this summer for vegetables he is certain sales

"BOBS" DOOMED? BEAUTY CROWN TO UNSHORN GIRLS

NATIONAL BATHING BEACH
PRIZES AWARDED ONLY TO
GIRLS WITH TRESSES

STYLE SPECIALISTS PREDICT
BANISHMENT OF SCISSORS
THIS WINTER

Atlantic City, Sept. 23.—Is bobbed hair doomed?
Beauty specialists, theatrical managers and style authorities in New York agree that the post-war epidemic of shorn tresses has reached its peak, and women to seek to dress "differently" are turning to "transformations," the Parisienne bandeau and other means of disguising their snipped locks, according to late reports from the east.

Newspaper women, in attendance at the Long Island social activities in honor of the Prince of Wales, were impressed with the spreading habit of letting the hair grow long again. Society women, they found, are pensioning the barber's shears, because "every shop girl now has a boyish shingle, my dear."

Bobbed Hair Too Expensive
"I cut my hair three years ago," said a young business woman in a downtown office yesterday. "I thought I'd save a dreadful lot of time. But, gracious, my 'King Tut' cut means oodles of bother and hair-dressing expenses—far more than my old coiffure cost."

"—And bobbing does destroy a girl's personality," chimed in her companion. "You look like every other girl, at dances, the theatre, parties. We all look like orphan asylum inmates. No individuality. Yes, I'm letting mine grow again."

Anyway—
You may be as beautiful as Helen of Troy or as shapely as Venus—but you'll never win a national bathing beauty contest if you have bobbed hair!

To judge from the recent happenings at Atlantic City, where the fairest of the fair from more than ninety American cities assembled to compete for the honor of being named "Miss America," the girls with the shingle or boyish bob didn't have a chance.

True! There were a number of girls at the contest whose locks were attractively clipped—but they disappeared in the first elimination and were never heard of again.

Beauties Are Curl Adorned
On the other hand, Miss Ruth Malcolmson, whose dark, luxurious curls fall far over her shapely shoulders, was chosen Beach Queen of America. She comes from Philadelphia. Her curls have never been scissored, she said. And now she has a secretary—working ten hours a day, 'tis said, answering offers of contracts from movie producers, toothbrush concerns and hair tonic manufacturers.

And there was Miss Catherine M. Campbell of Columbus, O., who won the Atlantic City beauty crown for the last two years. She was "runner-up" this year. And she's never heard the barber's cru-u-uel clippers.

Another fascinating beauty, whose long, flowing tresses attracted the judges to such a degree that she was awarded numerous cups and a place

Office Calls

Accompanied one girl to School for Feeble-Minded at Faribault.
Visited a couple of dances with sheriff.

One juvenile court hearing—completion of delinquency.

A number of miscellaneous calls were made in an effort to interest persons in the State Conference of Social Work beginning September 6th.

There were two district court hearings, one in which paternity was established and the other on an abandoned charge of an illegitimate child.

One runaway boy was returned to his county and at our suggestion, a hearing for feeble-mindedness is to be had in that county.

in the select few called for final consideration was Miss Faye Lamphier, pride of Santa Cruz, Calif. Her long hair frames a charming, intellectual countenance.
The same applies to Miss Margaret Leigh, "Miss Chicago," who finished among the final five. Her dark curls stream gracefully down her shoulders.

Bobs Destroy Personality
And when you asked one of the Atlantic City beauty judges "Why?" he replied:
That beauty of face and figure and personality are the main requisites of the judges, but girls with bobs lack that essential individuality which was needed to make them stand out from the crowd—and the girls with long locks immediately drew the admiring glances.

Bobbed hair is not passe by any means! Some girls will cut their hair for years to come. And some married women. But the trend of fashion is toward long hair again—with the aid of "transformations" and the alluring bandeau and hair net, until nature reasserts itself.

"Every girl," concluded a New York beauty specialist, "should study her personality in the mirror. If she can make herself distinctive, strikingly attractive and vibrant with personality—by means of long hair—she is foolish to submit to the scissors every two weeks."

If you don't think hair styles are changing, just notice the smart women in the shopping district one of these autumn afternoons! Long tresses are coming back, sure.

HULKING BRUTES OFTEN SEEN IN A DAINTY TEA ROOM

(By United Press)

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Pink tea and red-blooded manhood no longer are the strangers of other days. To see a hulking brute of a man sit down to a meal replete with hors d'oeuvres rich creamy salads and filmy French pastry is no uncommon sight, according to members of the National Association who hold their convention here.

"Men have come to appreciate daintiness and diversity of menu," declares Myron Green, Kansas City restaurateur, vice president of the food dealers' association.

Time was when the man would forfeit his masculine birthright if he were to indulge in the Parisian viands so dear to the feminine palate. Ten years ago male appetites chiefly craved thick soup, blood-red steaks, rare roast-beef, chops, and fried potatoes with coffee and pie.

That latter-day has gone.

Any latter-day tea room has its unblushing male clientele. The tea-shop of other years, supplied with rickety furniture, shrieking with exotic decorations, has given way to the clean-level establishment of today, tastefully outfitted, and specializing in appetizing dishes and scientific service.

The fact that college men and women are setting up tea rooms, making use of trained taste in decorations and up-to-date principles in the handling of foods is the explanation for the change advanced by Miss Helen Sawyer, proprietor of a Columbus, O., tea-shop.

The 20th century has seen miraculous progress in the preparation of food, restaurant men point out. But the goal they are working for, they say, is to serve the meal complete without hand having to touch it.

WOODHEAD MOTOR CO. IMPROVEMENTS

Makes Radical Changes Designed to Increase Floor Space and En-
large Departments

NEW MACHINERY ADDED

All Arrangements Designed Along
Lines Approved by the
Ford Company

The Woodhead Motor Company is making a number of radical changes and improvements in its plant, designed to increase floor space and to enlarge several of the important departments.

A portion of the south end of the large show room has been partitioned off from the rest of the room and will be used for the president's private office and the accounting department.

The west side of the show room, formerly occupied by these offices, is to be converted into a stock room for Ford parts. Lupton steel bins, designed especially for handling these parts, are to be installed. The bins come in thirty-two units having a total of 1,202 compartments, giving ample storage space for a very large stock of parts. The company manufacturing these bins states that the Woodhead Motor Company will have the largest Ford parts department in Northern Minnesota.

In addition to the bins special Lupton racks will be used for handling springs, radiators, fenders and wheels, parts that formerly took up a great deal of space because of their size.

The repair shop is to be moved forward and will occupy the space of the old parts room, the paint shop and the assembling room. Several pieces of machinery are being added which will facilitate repairs. The new shop will take care of nine cars at one time.

The space now occupied by the machine and repair shop is to be converted into a garage with a capacity of twenty-five cars in live storage.

The north-west corner of the front show room is partitioned off and is to be used for a receiving room. A loaded truck carrying parts and supplies, can drive into the room and unload, and the parts will be distributed from this point to the bins. Fordson tractor and Lincoln parts will be stored in this room also.

John F. Woodhead, president of the company, states that this new arrangement of the plant is designed along lines approved by the Ford company, and recommended for efficient and economical handling of the work. The trade in Ford parts, accessories and repairs has increased to the point where it was necessary

FOR GOITER CURE

A PROPOSAL has been made to the school board of St. Peter that every pupil in the public schools between the ages of 8 and 16 years be given the iodine treatment for the prevention of goiter.

This calls to mind the prevalence of this disease in Minnesota and many other mid-western states. Atlantic coast states are singularly free from the malady, because, being sea food eaters they gain much iodine in their diet, thus counteracting any tendency to contract the disease. Japan, it is reported has little, if any, goiter cases.

In Brainerd age cuts no figure in the contraction of the disease. Young people have it, and very old people too. Minnesota doctors should study the disease and recommend some plan of diet, some course of medicine to counteract it. In St. Peter, as will be noted, goiter has become so prevalent that it has stirred its school board to action.

THE LAW-MAKING MANIA

As previously commented on by the Dispatch, the most dangerous disease attacking America today, is the law-making mania absorbing 48 legislatures and our national Congress. No man living can master or even read all the laws, new ones, old ones, obsolete ones, unconstitutional ones, laws in the making, etc., etc.

New laws are made at the request of every reformer who comes along with the notion that he was put on earth to act as his brother's keeper, says the San Francisco Chronicle. The day will come when we will elect men to the legislature and to Congress not to make new laws, but to clean out the rubbish that has accumulated in the statutes.

Few laws, well enforced, are better any day than a mountain-high mass with some enforced, others not enforced, and some so dead that no one ever heard of them unless unearthed by some lawyer in support of a technicality of some kind.

A TRUE FRIEND

MEN love dogs because dogs alone meet a friendship need that humans generally haven't the faith, the simplicity and the genuineness to supply, says Colliers.

One philosopher has said that a friend is one who incessantly pays us the compliment of expecting great things of us. Another has defined a friend as one who knows our faults and loves us still.

A man's dog goes all one better; he never asks questions, never explains, never apologizes.

THE Democrats had hoped to advocate radicalism in the West and conservatism in the East to play both ends against the middle, says the Burlington, N. J., Enterprise, and now General Dawes exposes their hand, and no Democrat knows how to answer him.

IN his denunciation of political parties, Bob La Follette was most impartial in a recent speech. He claimed both Democratic and Republican parties were rotting, water-logged wrecks, fast breaking to pieces. In other words, Bob is bidding for a job on his own boat.

ELIMINATION of "Pittsburgh Plus" should give an impetus to the steel business at Duluth, head of the lakes, and correspondingly affect iron ore production. The day is passing when a man is afraid to contract ore disposal before hearing what Pittsburgh is bidding.

THE country seems anxious to see Brooklyn matched against Washington in the world's series. It would be a great game with Dazzy Vance hurling for Brooklyn and Walter Johnson for the Senators.

THE latest in New York operations is slicing off a man's "bay-window." A rich theatre owner was quickly reduced to slender and youthful proportions by the surgeons.

ALL the vociferation of the opposition, says the Omaha Bee, fails to drown out the noise of the wood sawing being done in Washington by one Calvin Coolidge.

THE old saying, "As Goes Maine, so Goes the Nation," also applied to New York state and later to California, now bids fair to be attached to Minnesota.

AN opera singer, fined for speeding, was able to pay her fine by singing for the judge. Some of us, trying to sing, would have drawn an extra 30 days.

A COLLEGE can't make brains, says the St. Cloud Daily Times. It can merely train them. It usually makes a smart man smarter; a fool a bigger fool.

GENERAL DAWES can fill an important position in this presidential campaign by devoting his time to the elimination of bunk.

It's hard to live up to a reputation. Babe Ruth is expected to smash one over the fence every time he goes to bat.

THE issue of the campaign has resolved itself into "brass tacks" as opposed to "bombast."

Women Take Prominent Part in 1924 Campaign for the Presidency; Three Who Are Leaders in Republican Camp

Since the amendment to the Constitution extending suffrage to women became effective, women have taken a very active part in national politics. This presidential year they are in the fight tooth and nail on both sides—refuting the views of opponents of suffrage who prophesied apathy on the part of women, even if they were granted this privilege and duty.

In the Republican National Committee, women play a major role. Under the leadership of Mrs. Alvin T. Hart, of Kentucky, who is Vice Chairman, the women members of the National Committee are working hard, wisely, and well to convince the women voters of the necessity of returning Calvin Coolidge to the White House for the good of America.

Pictured above are three national committeewomen. Mrs. Grace S. Burlingham, at the left, is from Missouri, and is well known for her organization work in politics. She founded and largely built up the Republican Women's Club of St. Louis, and was its first president, holding that office for two years. She has been president of the 25th Ward Republican Organization since women entered politics. In addition to that, she is manager of the Women's Coolidge Clubs of America for her state. Not only in politics has Mrs. Burlingham made a name for herself, but she is a golfer of note. A few years ago she won the state championship for women, as well as the St. Louis City championship.

Thomas P. Hollowell is Warden of the state penitentiary at Fort Madison. During their early married life her husband was a postmaster, and ran a Republican newspaper, and it was through him that she became well grounded in state politics. When the war came, Mrs. Hollowell volunteered, and Mrs. Hollowell conducted the newspaper during his absence. During the past winter she served as associate chairman of the Coolidge Committee. She is a member of the Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. E. C. Giltner, of Portland, Oregon, shown above at the right, not only is national committeewoman for her state, but has been associated with the Oregon State Committee for a number of years. During the World War she served overseas, her work in the hospitals being noted as of exceptional value.

11 MILES GRADING, 15 OF GRAVELING

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT CONTRACTS ALSO CALL FOR TWO BRIDGES

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, this week will close contracts for 11 miles of new grading, 15 miles of graveling and two bridges on different parts of the Minnesota trunk highway system. The low bids opened Thursday total $113,519 and are nearly 25 per cent below preliminary estimates. Sharp competition among contractors fighting for work to keep their organizations busy during winter months was credited with the low prices.

Tentative awards, subject to rechecks, follow:

T. H. No. 16—Lake Crystal northward: 1.2 miles grading at $5,859 to John C. Nelson, Minneapolis; culverts at $1,378 to Lundin Bros., Mankato; 1.2 miles graveling at $1,191 to Alec Hanson & Son, Lake Crystal; 30-foot bridge at $3,345 to Independent Bridge Co., Minneapolis.

T. H. No. 23—Mission Creek westward: 9.8 miles grading at $44,536 to Weaver & Richardson, Anoka; culverts at $6,446 to F. H. Weiss, Le Sueur Center; bids rejected on 20-foot bridge.

T. H. No. 39—South of Mankato: 140-foot bridge at $18,389 to Widell Company, Mankato.

T. H. No. 39—Minnesota Lake-Mapleton: 12 miles graveling at $30,936 to Carpenter & Walker, Sauk Centre.

T. H. No. 59—Near Zumbro Falls: bids rejected on 280-foot bridge to be advertised.

T. H. No. 60—Near Madison Lake: 1.5 miles graveling at $3,429 to Connelly Contracting Co., St. Paul.

Blue Earth county improvements are to be financed with reimbursement bonds issued by that county, but paid for eventually with motor vehicle tax funds. A large letting of other needed betterments on state trunk highways is scheduled for Oct. 7.

ELSIE SWEETEN NAMES PASTOR AS BETRAYER

gave him some more poison in oatmeal.

"Mr. Hight had given me some more poison in the meantime.

"That with medical attention, Wilford seemed to grow better again and after Dr. S. J. Thompson had waited on him Friday, July 25, I administered to Wilford Sweeten the final dose of poison and he grew worse. That on July 28, 1924, the final dose of poison was administered in some tomato soup.

Hight Encouraged Her

"That every time Rev. Hight came to the house during Wilford's illness he gave me a note of encouragement to give Wilford more poison; that I did not know and he did not tell me he poisoned his wife, but when she became ill and died I supposed he had poisoned her.

"That, until I became infatuated with Mr. Hight I had led a blameless life and had always been a true wife and mother.

"And this is true, so help me God. (Signed) "Elsie Sweeten."

All through the night the woman was the target of a merciless fire of questions from State's Attorney Frank Thompson, Sheriff Holcomb and Coroner Jesse Reece. She replied to all questions:

"I didn't poison my husband. I loved him. Hight might have poisoned him."

Then, wearied by many sleepless nights and by the finger of suspicion that gossip had been pointing at her and the pastor since the death of her husband, she finally began to droop.

The confession of the pastor was read to her. She did not lose her presence of mind.

When Dawn Broke She Weakened

Dr. F. J. Thompson, who treated her husband when he was ill, asked her to make a "clean breast of it." He told her there was nothing to be gained by holding back.

When dawn broke she weakened. Her eyes were heavy with sleep.

"We'll see that your children are taken care of. You needn't worry about them," she was promised.

It was the final straw. The promise gave hope of relief.

"All right," she said wearily, "I'll tell."

Then she dictated her long statement, taking more than 20 minutes for the task.

PASTOR HIGHT TALKS TO MRS. SWEETEN

Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 23.—A meeting with Rev. Lawrence M. Hight who a few hours before had charged her with poisoning her husband as part of a "murder compact" to get their loves free, failed to shake Mrs. Elsie Sweeten.

Early today the pastor was brought into the room in which she had all night turned a deaf ear to appeals for a confession.

"Hello," she said cordially.

"Hello. We're in a sad plight," Hight remarked.

"Yes, we are."

The pastor was taken back to the cell in which he is held for the poisoning of his wife.

It was not until an hour later that Mrs. Sweeten confessed she had poisoned her husband with arsenic given her by Hight.

2 MURDER SUSPECTS REMOVED TO NEW JAIL

Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 23.—Fearing possible violence, although none was openly threatened, Sheriff Grant Holcomb today took Elsie Sweeten and Rev. Lawrence Hight out of the Jefferson county jail here and hurried them by automobile to another jail in some unnamed Illinois city.

The people of Ina, home town of the two who confessed the poisoning of their respective spouses with arsenic to allow expression of their love for each other, are deeply wrought up over the crime.

Mob violence, authorities said, was a remote possibility, but it was thought proper to take the prisoners elsewhere.

The grand jury will meet here on October 13 to return indictments of first degree murder against the Methodist pastor and the pretty brunette widow who was a member of his congregation.

Thrifty Wife Sells Shoe

Shortly after a traveling man returned from a long road trip he went to his closet to get out his light summer suit and white shoes. He could find but one shoe. He asked his wife about the missing shoe, but got no information. Inquiring further, he learned from his daughter that the wife had sold one of the shoes to a one-legged man who had called at the door.—Kansas City Star.

Lions Travel Paved Streets

In the Belgian Congo in Africa, although many miles of streets are paved, it is necessary for automobilists and other travelers to light fires at night to ward off lions and other animals. The fires are also used to ward off savage citizens.

Expend Millions

Purchases by the gold, diamond and coal mining companies of South Africa are sometimes as much as $90,000,000 a year.

The Gasoline Tax

(Minneapolis Star)

Shall taxes on gasoline be used to improve Minnesota roads?

That is the question the Minnesota voter will be called upon to answer at the coming election in passing on "Amendment No. 1."

The proposed amendment has been given its number on the ticket and it is the same number as the amendment which made possible the trunk highway system.

The trunk highways are already bringing big money to Minnesota and are earning dividends for the state in large wads while freeing county money to be applied on the minor county roads that need to be improved to benefit the farmer.

There is no question at all that the state has the right to tax gasoline. The only question before the voters is whether that money should be diverted to the road fund from the general expense fund.

The amendment opens the way for a tax on gasoline that will give increased road funds and at the same time relieve the pressure of the license tax.

If the system is adopted it will be possible to come nearer making those who use the roads pay for them. The more the motorist drives the more he will contribute to the road fund. The less he drives the less he will contribute.

A good thing about it is that it will make the outside tourist passing through Minnesota contribute something to the wear and tear on the roads caused by his car.

Women Take Prominent Part in 1924 Campaign for the Presidency; Three Who Are Leaders in Republican Camp

Since the amendment to the Constitution extending suffrage to women became effective, women have taken a very active part in national politics. This presidential year they are in the fight tooth and nail on both sides,—refuting the views of opponents of suffrage who prophesied apathy on the part of women, even if they were granted this privilege and duty.

In the Republican National Committee, women play a major role.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, of Kentucky, who is Vice Chairman, the women members of the National Committee are working hard, wisely, and well to convince the women voters of the necessity of returning Calvin Coolidge to the White House for the good of America.

Pictured above are three national committee women. Mrs. Grace S. Burlingham, at the left, is from Missouri, and is well known for her organization work in politics. She founded and largely built up the Republican Women's Club of St. Louis, and was its first president, holding that office for two years. She has been president of the 25th Ward Republican Organization since women entered politics. In addition to that, she is manager of the Women's Coolidge Clubs of America for her state. Not only in politics has Mrs. Burlingham made a name for herself, but she is a golfer of note. A few years ago she won the state championship for women, as well as the St. Louis City championship.

Thomas P. Hollowell is Warden of the state penitentiary at Fort Madison. During their early married life her husband was a postmaster, and ran a Republican newspaper, and it was through him that she became well grounded in state politics. When the war came, Mr. Hollowell volunteered, and Mrs. Hollowell conducted the newspaper during his absence. During the past winter she served as associate chairman of the Coolidge Committee. She is a member of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. E. C. Giltner, of Portland, Oregon, shown above at the right, not only is national committee woman for her state, but has been associated with the Oregon State Committee for a number of years. During the World War she served overseas, her work in the hospitals being noted as of exceptional value.

11 MILES GRADING, 15 OF GRAVELING

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT CONTRACTS ALSO CALL FOR TWO BRIDGES

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, this week will close contracts for 11 miles of new grading, 15 miles of graveling and two bridges on different parts of the Minnesota trunk highway system. The low bids opened Thursday total $113,519 and are nearly 25 per cent below preliminary estimates. Sharp competition among contractors fighting for work to keep their organizations busy during winter months was credited with the low prices.

Tentative awards, subject to rechecks, follow:

T. H. No. 16—Lake Crystal northward: 1.2 miles grading at $5,869 to John C. Nelson, Minneapolis; culverts at $1,378 to Lundin Bros., Mankato; 1.2 miles graveling at $1,191 to Alec Hanson & Son, Lake Crystal; 30-foot bridge at $3,345 to Independent Bridge Co., Minneapolis.

T. H. No. 23—Mission Creek westward: 9.8 miles grading at $44,536 to Weaver & Richardson, Anoka; culverts at $6,446 to F. H. Weiss, Le Sueur Center; bids rejected on 20-foot bridge.

T. H. No. 39—South of Mankato: 140-foot bridge at $18,389 to Widell Company, Mankato.

T. H. No. 39—Minnesota Lake-Mankato: 12 miles graveling at $30,936 to Carpenter & Walker, Sauk Centre.

T. H. No. 59—Near Zumbro Falls: bids rejected on 280-foot bridge to be readvertised.

T. H. No. 60—Near Madison Lake: 1.5 miles graveling at $3,429 to Connelly Contracting Co., St. Paul.

Blue Earth county improvements are to be financed with reimbursement bonds issued by that county, but paid for eventually with motor vehicle tax funds. A large letting of other needed betterments on state trunk highways is scheduled for Oct. 7.

gave him some more poison in oatmeal.

"Mr. Hight had given me some more poison in the meantime.

"That with medical attention, Wilford seemed to grow better again and after Dr. S. J. Thompson had waited on him Friday, July 25, I administered to Wilford Sweeten the final dose of poison and he grew worse. That on July 28, 1924, the final dose of poison was administered in some tomato soup.

Hight Encouraged Her

"That every time Rev. Hight came to the house during Wilford's illness he gave me a note of encouragement to give Wilford more poison; that I did not know and he did not tell me he poisoned his wife, but when she became ill and died I supposed he had poisoned her.

"That, until I became infatuated with Mr. Hight I had led a blameless life and had always been a true wife and mother.

"And this is true, so help me God.

(Signed) "Elsie Sweeten."

All through the night the woman was the target of a merciless fire of questions from State's Attorney Frank Thompson, Sheriff Holcomb and Coroner Jesse Reece. She replied to all questions:

"I didn't poison my husband. I loved him. Hight might have poisoned him."

Then, wearied by many sleepless nights and by the finger of suspicion that gossip has been pointing at her and the pastor since the death of her husband, she finally began to droop.

The confession of the pastor was read to her. She did not lose her presence of mind.

When Dawn Broke She Weakened

Dr. F. J. Thompson, who treated her husband when he was ill, asked her to make a "clean breast of it." He told her there was nothing to be gained by holding back.

When dawn broke she weakened. Her eyes were heavy with sleep.

"We'll see that your children are taken care of. You needn't worry about them," she was promised.

It was the final straw. The promise gave hope of relief.

"All right," she said wearily, "I'll tell."

Then she dictated her long statement, taking more than 30 minutes for the task.

PASTOR HIGHT TALKS TO MRS. SWEETEN

Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 23.—A meeting with Rev. Lawrence M. Hight who a few hours before had charged her with poisoning her husband as part of a "murder compact" to get their loves free, failed to shake Mrs. Elsie Sweeten.

Early today the pastor was brought into the room in which she had all night turned a deaf ear to appeals for a confession.

"Hello," she said cordially.

"Hello. We're in a sad plight," Hight remarked.

"Yes, we are."

The pastor was taken back to the cell in which he is held for the poisoning of his wife.

It was not until an hour later that Mrs. Sweeten confessed she had poisoned her husband with arsenic given her by Hight.

2 MURDER SUSPECTS REMOVED TO NEW JAIL

Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 23.—Fearing possible violence, although none was openly threatened, Sheriff Grant Holcomb today took Elsie Sweeten and Rev. Lawrence Hight out of the Jefferson county jail here and hurried them by automobile to another jail in some unnamed Illinois city.

The people of Ina, home town of the two who confessed the poisoning of their respective spouses with arsenic to allow expression of their love for each other, are deeply wrought up over the crime.

Mob violence, authorities said, was a remote possibility, but it was thought proper to take the prisoners elsewhere.

The grand jury will meet here on October 13 to return indictments of first degree murder against the Methodist pastor and the pretty brunette widow who was a member of his congregation.

The Gasoline Tax

(Minneapolis Star)

Shall taxes on gasoline be used to improve Minnesota roads?

That is the question the Minnesota voter will be called upon to answer at the coming election in passing on "Amendment No. 1."

The proposed amendment has been given its number on the ticket and it is the same number as the amendment which made possible the trunk highway system.

The trunk highways are already bringing big money to Minnesota and are earning dividends for the state in large wads while freeing county money to be applied on the minor county roads that need to be improved to benefit the farmer.

There is no question at all that the state has the right to tax gasoline. The only question before the voters is whether that money should be diverted to the road fund from the general expense fund.

The amendment opens the way for a tax on gasoline that will give increased road funds and at the same time relieve the pressure of the license tax.

If the system is adopted it will be possible to come nearer making those who use the roads pay for them. The more the motorist drives the more he will contribute to the road fund. The less he drives the less he will contribute.

A good thing about it is that it will make the outside tourist passing through Minnesota contribute something to the wear and tear on the roads caused by his car.

MILLION LIVES SAVED BY AMERICAN DOLES

NEAR EAST'S GRATITUDE PICTURED BY RETURNED RELIEF HEAD

A million lives in the Near East have been saved by American philanthropy, according to Charles V. Vickrey, President of the International Near East Association and General Secretary of the Near East Relief, who has arrived here from the annual meeting of the association in Geneva and an inspection trip to the Near East.

"America is a name to conjure with throughout the Near East because her representatives have gone there with the healing hand of ministry and not with the mailed fist of conquest," said Mr. Vickrey.

"Destroy one-half of New York and the situation would only suggest the awful poverty, confusion and suffering that one now sees in the refugee camps around Salonika and throughout Macedonia.

"The catastrophe is not passed. As I was leaving Salonika, another refugee ship with more than 5,000 impoverished, all but naked, refugees from Asia Minor was coming into the Salonika harbor in connection with the exchange of populations. One hundred and forty thousand more were to come within the next few weeks. How they will live through the winter in a city whose normal population is not more than 100,000 and which is already overrun with twice that number of refugees is more than an American mind can comprehend. Fifty million people, suddenly added to the population of the United States would not be nearly as great a tax upon our resources as is this 30% increase to the population of war-ravaged, impoverished Greece.

"The hopeful development of my trip was the response of all nations to the proposal of an International Golden Rule Sunday, to be observed on December 7th not only as a means of helping the orphans but as a contribution to international good will and world peace. In Jerusalem, representatives of eighteen nations and eighteen distinct religious communions attended the first International Golden Rule Tea, the attendance including the head of the Moslem community in Palestine; the Armenian, Greek, Catholic, Coptic, and Abyssinian Patriarchs or Archbishops; Jews; Protestants, and representatives of practically all religious faiths. A committee, representing all of these communions, was organized to promote the observance of the Golden Rule throughout Palestine and the Near East.

"A later meeting, held in Geneva, Switzerland, on the eve of the opening of the League of Nations and under the Chairmanship of M. Paul Hymans, President of the Council of the League, brought together representatives of more than twenty countries for the organization of Golden Rule Sunday throughout Western Europe."

American Indians

Greet Chinese Visitors

Washington, Sept. 23.—A unique reception was given 130 Chinese students, guests of Uncle Sam, upon their arrival in Glacier National Park, en route to eastern colleges where they will complete their book education as beneficiaries under the United States' generous disposition of the Boxer Indemnity Fund.

American Indians in full feathered regalia and natively uniformed forest rangers formed a striking escort for the distinguished Asiatic party which traveled from Seattle, its port of entry, on a special Oriental Limited train over the Great Northern Railway.

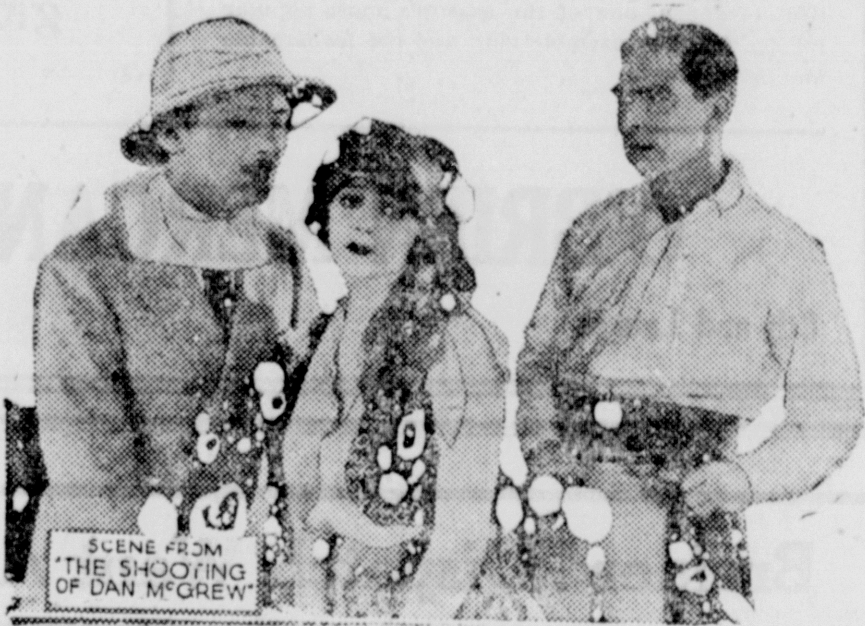

Only a short stop was made in Glacier Park but the fleeting glimpse these foreign intellectuals got of the Rocky Mountain scenic spot was sufficient to register mental photographs that will be carried a life time in their artistic Oriental minds, the chaperoning professors declared.

An outstanding feature of the occasion was an interchange of ideas by the Indians of the Glacier National Park reservation and the visiting Mongolians, through interpreters. The Red Men, as well as the Yellow young men and women, were particularly interested in comparing each other closely in their discussion of the theory advanced by some scientists of both China and America which holds that the American Indians originally were Mongolians who got lost and wandered to the North American continent via the Behring Straits many centuries ago.

Low Cody, Now Film Star, Was to be a Doctor

Few people who see Low Cody in the title role of the Metro-SL picture, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," at the New Park tonight and Wednesday, can visualize him as a physician, yet that is exactly what he set out to be when he left his home town of Waterville, Me., for Montreal, where he attended the McGill University. Later, however, he decided to make people forget their ills rather than cure them, so he became an actor. He entered the Stanhope Wheatcroft school of acting in New York, but left before completing the course to join a "one night stand" that was leaving for a Southern tour. He played everything from "Hamlet" to "East Lynn" and then entered vaudeville. Following a few seasons in stock with his own company, he sold his interests.

The "Yes, Yes" Girls With "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" at the New Park Monday, September 29th.

Bubbling with good humor, garnished with pretty girls, and all stepping entrancingly to the tunes of some good music, comes "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" at the popular New Park Theatre next Monday, for an engagement of one night. Don't say that you have seen "Bringing Up Father," and let it pass unnoticed, as the show is absolutely new every year. You may as well decline to look at next Sunday's Funny Page because you saw last Sunday's. It is the same with the play. New every year. Nothing left over from last year but George McManus' clever characters "Jiggs, Maggie, Dinty and the rest of the bunch." "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" is undoubtedly the best of the series of ten that have visited the New Park. A chorus of genuine Irish Colleens, none of whom are over 18? No. This is not their telephone number, or the size of their shoes, but their age. "Jiggs" says chicken is no good when it's tough. And he knows. He's been married to Maggie for forty years.

Colleen Moore Settles Question of Bobbed Hair

To bob or not to bob! It is a question that has perplexed proud society queens and simple shop girls. Colleen Moore, who plays the leading role in "April Showers," which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, says that no decision she ever made caused her so much deliberation forethought.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

SYNOPSIS

Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, who had been wrongfully condemned as a slave to the Barbadoes under King James, falls in love with Arabella, niece of the military commander, at Bridgetown. He leads his fellow rebels-convict in an attack on a Spanish ship which had laid the city low and captures it. He sails for Tortuga, the rendezvous of the pirates of the Spanish Main. He accepts command of a buccaneer fleet, with Levasseur, a Frenchman and his ship, under him. Madelon d'Ogeron, daughter of the friendly Dutch governor of Tortuga, is fascinated by Levasseur. Levasseur breaks faith with Blood and captures a Dutch brig on which is Madelon and her brother. Blood lands at the island where Levasseur proposes to hold the girl as hostage for ransom. Levasseur draws and Captain Blood runs him through. Cahusac, his aide, enlists with Blood, who makes Madelon and her brother his guests on board his ship.

That affair of Mademoiselle d'Ogeron bore as its natural fruit an improvement in the already cordial relations between Captain Blood and the Governor of Tortuga. It was not difficult then for Captain Blood to recruit able crews, and he might have increased the number of his ships as well, but he decided to hold to the three vessels which were his—the Arabella, the La Foudre and the Santiago, which he had rechristened the Elizabeth.

It was with this fleet that he carried out the enterprise against Maracaybo, an enterprise in which Peter Blood's daring was only surpassed by stupidity which almost turned the tide against him and delivered him and his men over to the tender mercies of his implacable enemy, Don Miguel de Espinosa y Valdez, the Admiral of Spain. Captain Blood had landed at Maracaybo and had found the town empty. Too soon he learned of the trap. Espinosa had put into the narrow neck of the bay with his ships and had bottled the buccaneer in the bay. A sloop, captured by Captain Blood, was loaded with combustibles and powder and was sailed directly at the Spaniard until the grapples held the two like a vice. Then it was set afire. The Admiral's flagship burst into blaze, and fine seamanship and hard fighting with his three ships made Captain Blood master of Maracaybo Bay. But, when the Spaniards turned tail for shore and he gave chase, the fort which guarded the bay and which had seemed deserted poured down a raking fire upon him and drove him in mortification and despair to take refuge in the town. The Spaniards secured themselves in the fort.

With a devil's luck and clear-headed thinking Captain Blood feinted with preparations for a land attack after he had managed to acquire a large ransom in gold from the Governor of Maracaybo, and, opening a broadside, put the fort in flames. Captain Blood sailed for Tortuga. Don Miguel was left to chew the bitter cud of lost opportunity.

CHAPTER XVI
THE MILAGROSA

In Tortuga, during the months he spent there refitting the three ships he had captured from the fleet that had gone out to destroy him, he found himself almost an object of worship in the eyes of the wild Brethren of the Coast, all of whom now clamored for the honor of serving under him. It placed him in the rare position of being able to pick and choose the crews for his augmented fleet, and he chose fastidiously. When next he sailed away it was with a fleet of five ships in which went something over a thousand men. Thus you behold him not merely famous, but really formidable. Three captured Spanish vessels he had renamed with a certain scholarly humor the Clotho, Lachesis, and Atropos, a grimly jocular manner of conveying to the world that he made them the arbiters of the fate of any Spaniards he should henceforth encounter upon the seas.

And meanwhile the Spanish Admiral Don Miguel de Espinosa went raging up and down the Caribbean seeking his enemy, and in the meantime, as an hors d'oeuvre to his vindictive appetite, he fell upon any ship of England or of France that loomed above his horizon. This illustrious sea-captain and great gentleman of Castile had lost his head. And so, reckless of the fact that Captain Blood was now in vastly superior strength, the Spaniard sought him vainly. The circumstances in which eventually they met are very curious.

On the 15th September of the year

1688—a memorable year in the annals of England—three ships were afloat upon the Caribbean, which in their coming conjunctions were to work out the fortunes of several persons. The first of these was Captain Blood's flagship the Arabella, which had been separated from the buccaneer fleet in a hurricane off the Lesser Antilles. She was beating up for the Windward Passage homing for Tortuga, the natural rendezvous of the dispersed vessels. The second ship was the great Spanish galleon, the Milagrosa, which, accompanied by the smaller frigate Hildaiga, lurked off the Caymites, to the north of the long peninsula that thrusts out from the southwest corner of Hispaniola. Aboard the Milagrosa sailed the vindictive Don Miguel. The third and last of these ships was an English man-of-war, the Royal Mary, which was at anchor in the French port of St. Nicholas on the northwest coast of Hispaniola. She was on her way from Plymouth to Jamaica, and carried on board a very distinguished passenger in the person of Lord

Lord Julian Wade aboard the Royal Mary.

Julian Wade, who came charged by his kinsman, my Lord Sunderland, with a mission of some consequence and delicacy, directly arising out of that vexatious correspondence between England and Spain.

To satisfy King James's anxiety to conciliate Spain, and in response to the Spanish Ambassador's constant and grievous expostulations, my Lord Sunderland, the Secretary of State, had appointed a strong man to the deputy-governorship of Jamaica. This strong man was that Colonel Bishop who for some years now had been the most influential planter in Barbadoes. From his first coming to Jamaica, Colonel Bishop had made himself felt by the buccaneers. But do what he might, the one buccaneer whom he made his particular quarry—that Peter Blood who once had been his slave—eluded him ever. He confessed as much in a letter to the Secretary of State. My Lord Sunderland bethought him of the plan adopted with Morgan, who had been enlisted into the King's service un-

If you admire my hair—you who see it on the stage and elsewhere—let me tell you a secret.

That glint, that lustre, comes from a wonderful shampoo.

I do not know its ingredients. The makers refuse to tell me. But I have used scores of shampoos—soapy shampoos—and not one of them has ever brought comparable results.

I have induced these makers to supply that shampoo to you. It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Fruity Shampoo. I do not know the reasons for its results, but I guarantee them.

It is supplied by all drug and toilet counters. Any of them will return your money if you are not delighted.

I urge you to try it. The cost is 60 cents. If it does for your hair what it did for mine, you will be repaid a thousand fold. If it does not, get your money back.

Why use any commonplace shampoo when this supreme creation is at your command?

der Charles II. It occurred to him that a similar course might be similarly effective with Captain Blood.

Acting upon this conclusion, Sunderland sent out his kinsman, Lord Julian Wade, with some commissions made out in blank. The crafty Sunderland, master of all labyrinths of intrigue, advised his kinsman that in the event of his finding Blood intractable, or judging for other reasons that it was not desirable to enlist him in the King's service, he should turn his attention to the officers serving under him, and by seducing them away from him leave him so weakened that he must fall an easy victim to Colonel Bishop's fleet.

The Royal Mary made a good passage to St. Nicholas, her last port of call before Jamaica. It was understood that as a preliminary Lord Julian should report himself to the Deputy-Governor at Port Royal, whence at need he might have himself conveyed to Tortuga. Now it happened that the Deputy-Governor's niece had come to St. Nicholas some months earlier on a visit to some relatives, and so that she might escape the insufferable heat of Jamaica in that season. The time for her return being now at hand, a passage was sought for her aboard the Royal Mary, and in view of her uncle's rank and position promptly accorded.

BIG VOTE TROPHY

Colliers Offers Same to State Showing Largest Proportional Increase in Voting

Minnesota has joined the growing list of states in active competition for the Big Vote Trophy offered by Collier's, the National Weekly, to the state showing the largest proportional increase in voting at the forthcoming presidential election.

Governor J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota, when informed of the trophy offer—the first of its kind to be made—wrote: "I can assure you that your plan has my most hearty endorsement. Everyone in this state who is interested in good government is making a special effort this year to get out as large a vote as possible. I do not know whether we can win the prize but I am sure that our vote will show a substantial increase over previous years."

The Collier's trophy is a handsome walnut based ballot box of silver and gold surmounted by an American eagle. It stands 36 inches by 28 inches. The award of the trophy will be made as soon as official returns from all the states have been certified and the largest proportional increase over the 1920 vote determined.

DEERWOOD "SAN" RADIO FUND

Dr. James K. Anderson, superintendent of the Deerwood Sanatorium, writes:

The radio fund for the Deerwood sanatorium reports progress by leaps and bounds during the past week. Thanks to the generosity of the people solicited and those who have given voluntarily. Saturday morning Sept. 20th the fund in the First National Bank of Deerwood totaled over $650.

During the week several of the mines in the Crosby-Ironton district have been solicited and a ready response received from the workers. Aitkin Crosby and Deerwood also have been personally solicited.

People in practically all cases feel that the cause is quite worthy and apply the Golden Rule to their giving. No one wishes to be sick and have to spend long periods in bed but there are those who are unfortunate and have to do so, to make them more happy and contented is a joy.

The radio that is proposed will be one with separate ear phones to each bed rather than the loud speaker type which is not at all suited for a hospital.

The public is invited to the sanatorium to visit and will be given a hearty welcome, this is your institution. There are certain hours, of course, when visitors cannot be admitted and these times can easily be found out by telephone.

The sanatorium radio fund is going over big.

A contribution received today by the Dispatch is $1 from Mrs. E. L. Guin.

CHRISTIANSON TO SPEAK IN COUNTY

Republican Candidate for Governor Will Clearly Set Forth the Issues

HIS POSITION EXPLAINED

Voters Interested in Facts Concerning Coming Election Should Make It Point to Hear Him

Having officially launched his campaign with a constructive statement of facts confronting the voters of Minnesota, Theodore Christianson, Republican candidate for Governor, is setting a pace that promises to "wind" the opposition before election day arrives.

Mr. Christianson has clearly set forth the issues which the taxpayers of the state should consider before casting their ballots. His forthcoming visit to this county will be made the occasion for repeating those issues, constituting an event that will please all thoughtful voters of this locality.

The position taken by Mr. Christianson on the question of government ownership, so earnestly advocated by LaFollette and the so-called Farmer-Labor party of Minnesota, is an interesting one. He proves conclusively the utter fallacy of government ownership of railroads, for example, and drives home his argument with evidence to show that such a radical change in policy will actually place a mortgage of $4,000 against every $50,000 farm in the United States.

In his address here Mr. Christianson will make an appeal for President Coolidge and General Dawes, who head the Republican ticket; he will demonstrate his sincerity in urging a substantial reduction in taxes, and his capacity for aiding in bringing about such a reduction. He will leave no position unexplained, according to advance notices of his address, and voters of this district who are sincerely interested in learning facts concerning the coming election should make it their business to hear him.

Seeing The Light

(Ellendale Eagle)

The city of Faribault insisted on having busy trunk highways routed through its main business section and is now finding gravel trucks objectionable because they drop stones which other cars pick up in the tire treads and throw into plate glass windows. The merchants want the trucks abolished from that portion of the highway, but the highway department says "Nix." The highways were built for traffic and there is to be no discrimination. It is recalled to Faribault's memory that highway engineers recommended very earnestly a route three blocks away that would not have interfered with local business, but it was turned down by local sentiment. Not only will all kinds of traffic have the right of way on the trunk roads, but the state will probably eventually prohibit or modify parking on such congested business streets as Central avenue in Faribault, in order that it may not be hampered or restricted. This paper has always predicted that some places that were so anxious to route trunk highways right through their busiest sections would at some time be just as anxious to get them out again. Faribault is beginning to see the light. There will be others.

This committee will have some interesting matters to report at the next regular meeting of the league.

Some excellent talks were given by a number of members that clearly indicated that the large majority of people throughout the county are very much interested and in favor of the movement which is sponsored by the league in attempting to find means of reducing taxation. From the start that has been made a great deal of good is anticipated from the organization's program.

It was decided to change the meeting date from the fourth Monday in the month to the fourth Saturday, and accordingly the next meeting will be held on Saturday, October 25th.

PADDOCK VINDICATED HIMSELF IN EAST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 23.—Although it may have exacted the last real kick from his propellers, it must have been a great pleasure and an immense satisfaction to Charley Paddock when he won the national 100 and 220 yards championship and equaled the world's record in each event.

Winning championships and equaling records were not such a novelty to the California sprinter, but it was something new for him to do some of his real sprinting and vindicate himself before the jury that had been turning thumbs down on his California sprinting.

Paddock, after his return from the Olympic games, where he was not in the best of form, sacrificed some time and money from his business to remain in the east and compete in the national championships at the summer home of the Newark Athletic Club in the mountains near West Orange, N. J.

Perhaps he felt it was worth while to put in the time that might have been spent more profitably by running for the first time in a championship meet in the east and shove some crowd down the throats of those who had been talking about the rubber watches, the flying starts and the down-hill tracks that had helped him to his records on the Pacific Coast.

Paddock was game enough to take a chance on himself and run the risk of falling down before his critics and have them voice their "I told you so" criticism that followed his failure to run in championship form in the 1920 and 1924 Olympic trials in New York.

The track at the Newark Athletic Club is one of the fastest in the world and was laid out and built under the direction of F. W. Rubien, secretary of the A. A. U. and an engineer on the staff of the New York City department. It was not fast on the day that Paddock equaled his world's records. The track was soft and wet from a heavy rain on the previous day and there was only a slight wind back of the runners. The conditions were not for the fast running which made Paddock's performance all the more creditable.

WASHINGTON HAS A STRONG STAFF

The great Walter Johnson is the ace of the Nationals' pitching staff. The veteran left-handers, George Mogridge and Tom Zachary, are having the best year of their careers. The rookie Zahniser, a right-hander, has done very good work. In Fred Marberry, a recruit, and Allan Russell, the veteran spitballer, Washington has probably the best relief pitching in the major leagues.

Manager Harris has handled his staff with excellent judgment. Johnson has not been used as a pinch pitcher and has always had his required rest. The result—a big year for Johnson. The left-handers, Mogridge and Zachary, get plenty of work against clubs that don't like southpaws. Marberry and Russell have been used almost exclusively as relief pitchers and with great success.

The Nationals has a very good pitching staff that has been greatly helped by strong defensive play.

The five-star pitching staff of the Yankees failed Huggins this year. For three previous seasons it had carried the club to success.

Southpaw Pennock has been the only consistent performer. Injuries and illness handicapped Sam Jones, Bush and Shawkey have been brilliant at times and just as erratic. Hoyt, seemingly with a world of stuff has had his troubles winning. Gaston, rookie, has helped considerably. Lack of consistent pitching that has featured the play of the Yankees since 1921 has been the club's biggest handicap.

Coming into the home stretch the Yankee staff has been displaying its real ability. Such pitching throughout the year would have early clinched the pennant for New York.

Southpaw Whitehill easily rates the star of the Detroit staff. This rookie pitcher has tied the Tigers over many a rough spot in the race. Stoner, another recruit, who got away to a good start, slumped late in the season. Rip Collins has been very good at times, not so good at other times. Holloway, a big right-hander, in his second year has performed consistently all year. Wells, a recruit southpaw, has done good work in his first year. Cole has disappointed, while injuries have handicapped George Dauss. Despite this Dauss has done great work.

Washington has the best balanced pitching staff of the three contenders. It is not a great staff, but a very good one. Johnson stands out. While many southpaws in the American league have more stuff than Mogridge and Zachary, these brainy veterans are hard to beat. They pitch with their heads as well as their hands. Marberry, a big right-hander who has starred in the role of relief pitcher, may be the sensation of the series if Washington goes over.

Pennock, as in 1923, is the dominant factor on the Yankees' staff, while Whitehill, Dauss and Holloway are the consistent Tiger performers.—St. Paul Daily News.

FUR SHIPMENTS MUST BE PROPERLY LABELED

Hunters and trappers are given an early warning by Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardle that all shipments of furs must show somewhere on the outside of the package the nature of its contents and the name and license number of the licensee. If trapped on one's own land the package should be so marked.

Following is a letter concerning this matter just received by Mr. Cardle from D. A. Peterson, chief game warden:

"Any man, woman, child, company or corporation making a shipment of furs must, under the law, show somewhere on the outside of the shipment the exact contents thereof. If the furs are trapped under trapping license the license number and name of licensee must be given on the outside of the package together with the number of different kinds of skins contained therein; on the other hand if the furs are not trapped under license, but trapped on a man's own land, the package should be marked so that the wardens in checking these various shipments of fur will know that they are legal.

"Have each and everyone of the fur buyers in your district send in his money for a 1925 fur buyer's license in plenty of time so as to avoid any confusion and trouble which might arise at the time of expiration of his 1924 license, namely December 31, 1924."

TIGERS CANNOT WIN PENNANT IF THEY CAPTURE FOUR REMAINING CONTESTS

WASHINGTON STILL HAS TWO-GAME ADVANTAGE OVER YANKEES

New York, Sept. 23.—Brooklyn, by winning from Chicago yesterday, 2 to 1, in 12 innings, advanced to within one point of the Giants, whose game with Pittsburgh, one and one-half contests back of the two leaders, was postponed by rain.

Washington retained its two-game advantage in the American league over New York as Walter Johnson won his 14th straight game by defeating Chicago, 8 to 3. The Yankees won from Cleveland, 10 to 4, and Detroit defeated Boston, but the Tigers dropped out of the race as they cannot win now even by taking all of their four contests if Washington loses its six.

Senators May Win
The Senators can now clinch the pennant by winning five of their six games or tie by winning four even though the Yankees take their remaining six. Pittsburgh, by winning all of its eight games, can finish ahead of New York and Brooklyn.

BEMIDJI WINS NORTH MINNY LEAGUE FLAG

Bemidji, Sept. 13.—While other clubs in the Northern Minnesota baseball league were breaking even or sustaining small financial losses, the Bemidji club will emerge from the season with a neat surplus, according to an announcement made here today by George Kluniges, secretary-treasurer of the Bemidji club.

Winning 22 games, losing five and tying one out of a total of 28 games, the Chiefs closed the season by winning the pennant of the Northern Minnesota baseball league and the Spalding cup which was offered by A. G. Spalding & Bros. of Minneapolis for the league adopting the Spalding ball as the official ball.

Ed. L. Rogers of Walker, former Gopher football star and president of the league, has called a meeting of the league directors to be held in Bemidji Wednesday night to complete the business affairs of the season and discuss the 1925 season which gives promise of being even better than the first season of league ball.

The teams finished the second half of the split season in the following order:

	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Bemidji	10	8	2	.800
Bagley	9	6	3	.667

WORLD'S SERIES

MAY OPEN IN WASHINGTON

JUDGE LANDIS AND PENNANT CONTENDERS DECIDE ON DATE

NATIONAL LEAGUE WINNER MAY BE DECIDED IN NEW YORK THIS WEEK

By HENRY L. FARRELL
New York, Sept. 23.—Unless something startling happens this week, the world series will open in Washington on Saturday, Oct. 4. Owners of the five contending major league clubs met here yesterday and decided upon the date.

The Washington Senators apparently are deciding the place. The club owners decided to open the series in the American league city, whose team wins the pennant on Oct. 4, and play the first, second and sixth games there with the third, fourth and fifth games in the National league city. The games will be played on consecutive days, the players traveling at night. All the games will start at 2 o'clock eastern standard time. If a seventh game is necessary, the place will be decided by tossing a coin.

Scale of Prices
The following prices—which showed no reduction—were decided upon:

New York—$6, $5, $3 and $1;
Brooklyn—$6, $5, $3, $2 and $1;
Pittsburgh—$6, $5, $4, $2 and $1;
Washington—$6, $5, $3 and $1.

In selecting the dates, the fact no Sunday ball is allowed in Pittsburgh was considered. Thus, with the American league getting games number one and two, falling respectively on Saturday, Oct. 4, and Sunday, Oct. 5, there will be no lapse in consecutive playing days in the event that Pittsburgh wins the National league pennant.

Temporary stands will be put in at the Washington park or Forbes field in case these clubs come through to increase the seating capacity.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club, was too interested in the war his team is waging in the west to attend the meeting. He and Charles Stoneham, president of the Giants, were the only presidents absent.

While they have not attained the mathematical certainty the Senators practically have clinched the American league pennant and have won the most popular victory in years and years.

GIBBONS HAS TROUBLE TO GET HIS MONEY
London, Sept. 23.—The high court has awarded Tommy Gibbons £8,073, 3s and 11d for his fight with Jack Bloomfield here recently. This totals about $40,000. Gibbons may have some difficulty collecting, however, as the promoter, Arnold Wilson, has said the fight was a financial failure and that he was "broken."

Gibbons Out of Town
St. Paul, Sept. 23.—Efforts to talk to Gibbons this morning were fruitless as the St. Paul boxer is said to be out of town.

When Gibbons returned from England he said that he was certain of getting his money and that he had been paid more than half of his guarantee.

According to report from England on the day of the fight the affair drew one of the largest crowds in the history of England.

PADDOCK VINDICATED HIMSELF IN EAST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 23.—Although it may have exacted the last real kick from his propellers, it must have been a great pleasure and an immense satisfaction to Charley Paddock when he won the national 100 and 220 yards championship and equaled the world's record in each event.

Winning championships and equaling records were not such a novelty to the California sprinter, but it was something new for him to do some of his real sprinting and vindicate himself before the jury that had been turning thumbs down on his California sprinting.

Paddock, after his return from the Olympic games, where he was not in the best of form, sacrificed some time and money from his business to remain in the east and compete in the national championships at the summer home of the Newark Athletic Club in the mountains near West Orange, N. J.

Perhaps he felt it was worth while to put in the time that might have been spent more profitably by running for the first time in a championship meet in the east and shove some crowd down the throats of those who had been talking about the rubber watches, the flying starts and the down-hill tracks that had helped him to his records on the Pacific Coast.

Paddock was game enough to take a chance on himself and run the risk of falling down before his critics and have them voice the: "I told you so" criticism that followed his failure to run in championship form in the 1920 and 1924 Olympic trials in New York.

The track at the Newark Athletic Club is one of the fastest in the world and was laid out and built under the direction of F. W. Rubien, secretary of the A. A. U. and an engineer on the staff of the New York City department. It was not fast on the day that Paddock equaled his world's records. The track was soft and wet from a heavy rain on the previous day and there was only a slight wind back of the runners. The conditions were not for the fast running which made Paddock's performance all the more creditable.

WASHINGTON HAS A STRONG STAFF

The great Walter Johnson is the ace of the Nationals' pitching staff. The veteran left-handers, George Mogridge and Tom Zachary, are having the best year of their careers. The rookie Zahniser, a right-hander, has done very good work. In Fred Marberry, a recruit, and Allan Russell, the veteran spitballer, Washington has probably the best relief pitching in the major leagues.

Manager Harris has handled his staff with excellent judgment. Johnson has not been used as a pinch pitcher and has always had his required rest. The result—a big year for Johnson. The left-handers, Mogridge and Zachary, get plenty of work against clubs that don't like southpaws. Marberry and Russell have been used almost exclusively as relief pitchers and with great success.

The Nationals has a very good pitching staff that has been greatly helped by strong defensive play.

The five-star pitching staff of the Yankees failed Huggins this year. For three previous seasons it had carried the club to success.

Southpaw Pennock has been the only consistent performer. Injuries and illness handicapped Sam Jones, Bush and Shawkey have been brilliant at times and just as erratic. Hoyt, seemingly with a world of stuff has had his troubles winning. Gaston, rookie, has helped considerably. Lack of consistent pitching, that has featured the play of the Yankees since 1921, has been the club's biggest handicap.

Coming into the home stretch the Yankee staff has been displaying its real ability. Such pitching throughout the year would have early clinched the pennant for New York.

Southpaw Whitehill easily rates the star of the Detroit staff. This rookie pitcher has tied the Tigers over many a rough spot in the race. Stoner, another recruit, who got away to a good start, slumped late in the season. Rip Collins has been very good at times, not so good at other times. Holloway, a big right-hander, in his second year has performed consistently all year. Wells, a recruit southpaw, has done good work in his first year. Cole has disappointed, while injuries have handicapped George Dauss. Despite this Dauss has done great work.

Washington has the best balanced pitching staff of the three contenders. It is not a great staff, but a very good one. Johnson stands out. While many southpaws in the American league have more stuff than Mogridge and Zachary, these brainy veterans are hard to beat. They pitch with their heads as well as their hands. Marberry, a big right-hander who has starred in the role of relief pitcher, may be the sensation of the series if Washington goes over.

Pennock, as in 1923, is the dominant factor on the Yankees' staff, while Whitehill, Dauss and Holloway are the consistent Tiger performers.—St. Paul Daily News.

FUR SHIPMENTS MUST BE PROPERLY LABELED

Hunters and trappers are given an early warning by Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardle that all shipments of furs must show somewhere on the outside of the package the nature of its contents and the name and license number of the licensee. If trapped on one's own land the package should be so marked.

Following is a letter concerning this matter just received by Mr. Cardle from D. A. Peterson, chief game warden:

"Any man, woman, child, company or corporation making a shipment of furs must, under the law, show somewhere on the outside of the shipment the exact contents thereof. If the furs are trapped under trapping license the license number and name of licensee must be given on the outside of the package together with the number of different kinds of skins contained therein; on the other hand if the furs are not trapped under license, but trapped on a man's own land, the package should be marked so that the wardens in checking these various shipments of fur will know that they are legal.

"Have each and everyone of the fur buyers in your district send in his money for a 1925 fur buyer's license in plenty of time so as to avoid any confusion and trouble which might arise at the time of expiration of his 1924 license, namely December 31, 1924."

PIRATES IN THIRD PLACE, LESS THAN 2 GAMES BEHIND

TIGERS CANNOT WIN PENNANT IF THEY CAPTURE FOUR REMAINING CONTESTS

WASHINGTON STILL HAS TWO-GAME ADVANTAGE OVER YANKEES

New York, Sept. 23.—Brooklyn, by winning from Chicago yesterday, 2 to 1, in 12 innings, advanced to within one point of the Giants, whose game with Pittsburgh, one and one-half contests back of the two leaders, was postponed by rain.

Washington retained its two-game advantage in the American league over New York as Walter Johnson won his 14th straight game by defeating Chicago, 8 to 3. The Yankees won from Cleveland, 10 to 4, and Detroit defeated Boston, but the Tigers dropped out of the race as they cannot win now even by taking all of their four contests if Washington loses its six.

Senators May Win
The Senators can now clinch the pennant by winning five of their six games or tie by winning four even though the Yankees take their remaining six. Pittsburgh, by winning all of its eight games, can finish ahead of New York and Brooklyn.

BEMIDJI WINS NORTH MINN LEAGUE FLAG

Bemidji, Sept. 13.—While other clubs in the Northern Minnesota baseball league were breaking even or sustaining small financial losses, the Bemidji club will emerge from the season with a neat surplus, according to an announcement made here today by George Klunings, secretary-treasurer of the Bemidji club.

Winning 22 games, losing five and tying one out of a total of 28 games, the Chiefs closed the season by winning the pennant of the Northern Minnesota baseball league and the Spalding cup which was offered by A. G. Spalding & Bros. of Minneapolis for the league adopting the Spalding ball as the official ball.

Ed. L. Rogers of Walker, former Gopher football star and president of the league, has called a meeting of the league directors to be held in Bemidji Wednesday night to complete the business affairs of the season and discuss the 1925 season which gives promise of being even better than the first season of league ball.

The teams finished the second half of the split season in the following order:
